

Media consolidation is definitely not in the best interests of the general public. There is already too much control concentrated in the hands of a few. We have already seen how the news media is controlled by the President and his staff. Thank heavens for a few that continue to dig and to speak their minds.